Society of Security and Diplomatic Policy Studies

With China becoming a superpower and a power transition taking place in the Asia-Pacific region, this study group debated, analyzed, and conducted research centered on Japan's relations with countries in the region on a continuing, multilayered basis from the standpoint of national security and foreign policy, and conducted research on commission in order to make policy recommendations.

Study Group Meetings

- In May 2025, three intensive study group meetings were held and seven presentations were given on the theme "India from the Viewpoint of Japan's Security"
- In August 2025, three intensive study group meetings were held and seven presentations were given on the theme "Pax China on the Horizon?"
- In November 2025, three intensive study group meetings were held and seven presentations were given on the theme "Considering Russia after the Ukrain War"
- In February 2026, three intensive study group meetings were held and nine presentations were given on the theme "Trump 2.0: Analysis and Outlook"

Publication of Papers Related to the Study Group

・The following papers were published in April 2025:

"Considering Economic Security Focusing on Food and Energy Security"

"Proposal for Strengthening the Competitiveness of Japan's Defense Industry: Shift from the "Family Type" to the "Strategic Keiretsu-Type" System"

"The Role of the Private Sector in Economic Security: Reflections from Japan-US and Public-Private Relations Perspectives"

"China's Economy Facing Internal and External Challenges"

"Outlook for the US Economy: Whether the "Golden Age" Is Beginning?"

・The following papers were published in July 2025:

"What's Next for Japan-India Strategic Partnership"

"Japan-India Security Cooperation in India's Grand Strategy"

"India's Diplomacy with the United States and Russia"

"India, a Leader in the Global South-What Is It Really Like?"

"Where the India-Pakistan Conflict Is Headed"

"The India-China Border Issue and India's Military Strategy"

"Mid-to Long-Term Outlook for the Indian Economy : How to Asses the Indian Market ― Benefits and Challenges of Japan-India Collaboration"

"What Makes Modi 3.0 Distinct and a Future Outlook"

- The following papers were published in October 2025:
  - “Pax China” from the Global South’s Perspective”
  - “China’s Military Power as It Celebrates Its Centennial “
  - “Medium- to Long-Term Prospects of the Chinese Economy”
  - “China’s Strategic Gains and Losses from the Ukraine and Middle Eastern Conflicts and Its Military Partnership with Russia”
  - “Geopolitics of Science and Technology: China’s Scientific Revolution vs Trump 2.0”
  - “China’s “Kill ‘Three’ Birds with One Stone” Approach to Deep-Seabed Resource Development”
  - “The End of Pax Americana and the Rise of China”

- The following papers were published in January 2026:
  - “Hybrid Warfare Transformed Amidst the Ukraine War: Russian Tactics and the Global Diffusion of Threat”
  - “The Future of US-Russia Relations under Trump 2.0: Implications for Japan”

- The following papers were published in February 2026:
  - “Russia After the Ukraine War: A Challenge to Japanese Security Strategy”
  - “The Possible Revival of “Imperial Russia” and What It Means for Asia and Japan”
  - “A Perspective on Russia’s National Security Strategy: Focusing on the ‘Multipolar World,’ ‘Anti-Westernism,’ and ‘Nuclear Status”
  - “The Sino-Russian Strategic Partnership and Japan’s Security Future Trajectories and Implications”
  - “The Impact of Russia-North Korea Military Cooperation on Regional Security”

Publication of Security Studies

Volumes 7-1 “Economic Outlook and Economic Security,” 7-2 “Studies on India from the Viewpoint of Japan’s Security,” 7-3 “Pax China on the Horizon?,” and 7-4 “Considering Russia after the Ukraine War” of the bilingual Japanese-English research journal Security Studies were published in April, July, and October 2025 and in January 2026.

Members
(As of the end of March 2026)

AKIMOTO, Kazumine
Director, Akimoto Institute of Maritime Strategy

AKIYAMA, Masahiro
President, Akiyama Associates

ABIRU, Taisuke
Senior Research Fellow, Sasakawa Peace Foundation

ITOH, Motoshige
Professor Emeritus, Tokyo University

INUZUKA, Tsutomu
Senior Associate, Society of Security and Diplomatic Policy Studies

UEKI (KAWAKATSU), Chikako
Professor, Waseda University

OGATA, Makoto
Former Military Attaché to Taipei

OGURO, Kazumasa
Professor, Hosei University

OKONOGI, Masao
Professor Emeritus, Keio University

OHARA, Bonji
Senior Fellow, Sasakawa Peace Foundation

KANEHARA, Nobukatsu
Executive Director, Sasakawa Peace Foundation

Members

KAMIYA, Matake
Professor, National Defense Academy of Japan

KAMEI, Zentaro
Chief Research Fellow, PHP Research Institute

KAWASHIMA, Shin
Professor, University of Tokyo

SAKATA, Yasuyo
Professor, Kanda University of Foreign Studies

SAHASHI, Ryo
Associate Professor, Tokyo University

JIMBO, Ken
Professor, Keio University

SUZUKI, Kazuto
Professor, Tokyo University

SEKIYAMA, Takashi
Professor, Kyoto University

TAKAMIZAWA, Nobushige
Visiting Professor, Tokyo University

TOKUCHI, Hideshi
President, Research Institute for Peace and Security

NAGAO, Satoru
Associate Professor, Institute for International Strategy, Tokyo International University; Visiting Research Fellow, Hudson Institute

Members

NISHIDA, Ippeita
Senior Research Fellow, Sasakawa Peace Foundation

NISHINO, Junya
Professor, Keio University

HIRAIZUMI, Nobuyuki
President, Kajima Institute of International Peace

HOSOYA, Yuichi
Professor, Keio University

MATSUDA, Yasuhiro
Professor, Institute for Advanced Studies on Asia,
Tokyo University

MICHISHITA, Narushige
Vice President, Professor, National Graduate Institute for Policy Studies

MURATA, Koji
Professor, Doshisha University

WATANABE, Tsuneo
Senior Fellow, Sasakawa Peace Foundation